The Princeton Township High School had its Beginning on March 1st, 1866 when an article by the editor entitled, "A Public High School" appeared in The Republican. This article called to the attention of our people the need for a public high school in this vicinity. In the next issue of The Republican a letter signed by John H. Bryant was published. This letter was entitled "A High School for the Township" and agreed with the Editor's article as to the need of a public high school. Then a meeting of the voters of the town of Princeton was called. At that meeting a resolution by Mr. S. G. Paddock "to instruct the Trustees of the schools of this township to take immediate steps to establish a high school" was unanimously adopted. After that there was no doubt but that a high school would soon be erected.

At a special election a site was chosen and three directors elected, J. H. Bryant, F. Bascom, and J. Chritzman, who were authorized to borrow the money, erect a building and inaugurate a school. The building that was begun in 1866 was finished by June 1867, and dedicated on August 27, 1867 by Rev. F. Bascom.

Before the Institution was in complete running order $60,000 was spent. This included the building, site, fencing, grading, stone walks, heating apparatus for the building, inside blinds, furnishings for various rooms, musical instruments, library, maps, and general school equipment.

The school district of Princeton Township High School was drawn up to include Princeton Township, Dover Township and one-third of Selby Township, a total of 85 square miles and has remained unchanged to the present day.

It wasn't until 1886 that a year book was published by a senior class. The first few years the annual was called the "Princetonian" and was later changed to "Tiger". This year the Tiger staff is publishing the 50th edition of the year book.

The building was remodeled twice previous to the fire on December 15, 1924, which completely destroyed it. However, the school was insured for $80,000, the board had a surplus of $30,000 in its treasury, a bond issue for $175,000 was floated and the taxes were high enough to amply cover the cost of a new P. T. H. S.

The new building which is the present day Princeton Township High School took eighteen months to complete. It was finished and ready for classes by September 1926.

FOUR YEARS

Beneath a mountainous pile of books,
The haggard senior heaves a sigh.
Four years have passed since first he trod,
The hallowed halls of Princeton High.

The farmer boy has learned much more,
Than can be taught by volumes old.
He's lost his shyness 'mongst the gals—
City slickers, sirens bold.

The gals however bold they be,
Are not without their useful arts,
The Halls ring out with pinioned song;
For music rules and rocks all hearts.

This scholarly and studious group,
Does not aspire to common fame.
They must excel in every field,
Bring glory and avoid all shame.

What we have gained the school has lost,
What we have lost the school has gained,
We leave behind a spirit blithe,
We take the greatness we've attained.

Farewell, thou school, without us drear,
Forget us not in future years,
As we, the class of forty-six,
Remember laughter, joy and tears.

Laughter for the things we've done,
Joy for honor gained, and truth;
But now a tear in leaving you,—
Monument to carefree youth.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Princeton Township High School has five capable members on its school board. They are Mr. David Pamp, president; Miss Mary Uthoff, clerk; Mr. Miles Bryant, Mr. Charles Fawcett, and Mr. Richard Ferris. Mr. Ferris is a new member of the board this year, having replaced Mr. John Skinner.

Mr. Pamp, who has been a hard-working and energetic member of the school board for the last twenty-four years, is planning to resign this spring when the School Elections are held. We the students of P. T. H. S. are sorry to see such a fine leader as Mr. Pamp leave the school board, for we know that he has always had the best interest of the Students at heart. He is a busy man and he has given unreservedly of his time to our welfare and benefit.

To the whole board we give thanks for their help and understanding. We are grateful to them for our well-managed school, competent faculty, and beautiful building with its adequate equipment. We know they understand the pride we have in our school for all of them were at one time students at Princeton Township High School.

Mr. Shaffer

The man who runs Princeton Township High School on an efficient and interesting schedule, our teacher, friend, and guide who gives us encouragement and help throughout each year, is Mr. O. V. Shaffer, our principal. Administrating a public high school is no easy task yet he does it smoothly and succeeds in making our school life enjoyable. Because of him and his efforts in our behalf we feel that we have received enduring benefits in our high school days and we want to express our best wishes to him for these.

REMINISCING

Most of us, as adult seniors, can well recall our eventful four years in the halls of P. T. H. S. For instance, remember the Scavenger Hunt our Frosh year? Oh, what a night. Poor Mr. Johnson—I wonder how many autographs he signed as THE Marine!

We, the class of '46, have been noted for our exceptional individual willingness to work, and for our dependability, and that is a trait of which we are very proud. (But, fellow classmates, don't you agree that we've had some pretty fair encouragement and incentive from our swell teachers?) Our honorable valedictorian, Jerry G. Seidel has attained one of the highest averages in many years. Another unusual fact is that we have two salutatorians, Ann Avery and Shirley Fordham. Not to be slighted is Charles Hayes, who has served us well as Class president for two consecutive years.

Say, did you know that we have a poetess in our midst? Joan Winters. One of her poems, "Conquest," was published in both the National Anthology and Annual Anthology. Browsing still further through our wide field of art, we have Barbara Findley, pianist, whose Polonaise reverberates through the halls of PTHS almost daily. Too, we have Loretta Linn, who won first place in solo contest for her interpretation of Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso." Ann Rosenquist, our young opera-to-be star, has won first in several contests for her superb vocal achievements.

We too, can be proud of our accomplishments in promoting various "causes". When we were mere Juniors, we were the first to be 100 per cent in Bond and Stamp Sales. Our One-Act Plays, presented this year, netted a nice sum for the class fund. It has been said that our class plays, "George Washington Slept Here," and "Stage Door" were two of the best ever presented! We have the honor of having begun the editing of the monthly all-school paper, the Tiger Rag.

The Class of '46 has been the one and only class to spend four years in High School during the War. This hasn't been any honor or privilege, but rather a handicap. Quite a number of our classmates have left us for the service, and we're certainly proud of them!

Yes fellow classmates, we can always be proud of our Class of '46 and someday in the future, let's make it a point to have the best reunion of all times, just as we have done our best to be tops in everything else.

THE PHANTOM LOVER

The bright sun is vanquished and evening steals in:
The grey night, the black night,
Steals silently in;
Covers the earth with a billowy black,
Grasps the pale shadows of dusk to her bosom;

And I in my window am watching for Him.
Through the long valley a grey ribbon winds
And near to the river a road cuts its way
Now falls the gray rain, the bleakness enchancing:
Grey rain is cruel to the roses of May.
Push onward, ye traveller, the road winds its way
Through the desolate valley where comes not the May.
And the loon crying softly,
The longing despair of his soul to me calling
Must echo and ring in my ears as I wait.

I kneel by my window and smell the grey rain;
I feel at my fingertips wisps of the fog:
Down the grey valley my eyes turn in vain
Watching the pathway, still seeking him there.
Pass that grey valley, ye Traveller! and gain
Hilltop and Sunlight

And I, who shall wait here in the grey mist
The grey stinging rain,
Will lead you to sunlight and daylight again.
Minutes crawl onward and hours slowly creep,
And still falls the grey rain and cries the sad loon.
I in my window must taste bitter tears
Crawling slow, like the minutes, down pale sunken cheeks
Grant me, oh Thou who dost comfort the mourner,
The blessing of slumber as lonely I wait.
The grey moss is hanging like cypress-decked shrouds,
From trees in the valley whose gaunt clutching hands
Seize the tired Traveller and tear His long cloak.
Borne on the dark night by whispering shadows
A dirge gently haunting comes up from the valley;
A weird chant comes hunting, forsaking me not.

Shades of the unknown, flee to your dark gods!
Ghosts of all yesterdays, leave me in peace!
My vigil is nightlong in rain and grew shadow.
Alone in the silence, descending, oppressing,
My tears falling softly, I call on His name,
But here in the silence I wait Him in Vain—
He comes not this grey night, He comes not again.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

HOME ROOM 105

Not counting all of our visitors—mostly cats and dogs—our homeroom is made up of ten boys, sixteen girls, and Miss Stabenow, our homeroom teacher. We don't whisper much unless there is something worth whispering about, of course. The blackboard erasers make good conversation in themselves for us. Surprising how they can be mislaid, isn't it, Miss Stabenow?

Our officers were elected with almost unanmous votes and Marge Hade now presides as our president. Wayne Pillen acts as secretary, putting his abilities to test on Monday morning when he writes the announcements on the board. Dick Wiltz is vice president. He's the silent type, unless Marge is absent.

Our homeroom started out in Intramural Basketball to win the games. Many times the boys held pep meetings but somehow we never reached the top.

The float for homecoming was assembled at Don Dyke's home and we used Dyke's truck. We thought the float was pretty special, but apparently the judges didn't.

One thing we did succeed in was buying war stamps and bonds. We are proud of our record in that and of our homeroom—the illustrious 105.

HOME ROOM 106

We opened the door to homeroom 106 and gasped! Folks, this is the biology room and oh . . . h . . . h . . . h . . . those terrible odors that drifted out to us. Everyone finally realized that something had to be done, so a group of JUNIORS were selected to report there at 8:30 every morning for a whole year. And believe it or not, those odors have completely disappeared!! (No remarks from the sidelines please!)

The officers of this now pleasant-smelling room were chosen at the beginning of the year. Harley Angle was elected president; Marian Perkins, secretary; and Jim Fleming, treasurer.

We haven't had very much luck at prize-winning, but you can't say we didn't try. We worked and worked on our homecoming float, but it was to no avail! Nevertheless, we refused to be discouraged; after all, there was still the magazine sales. But much to our amazement, (?) we didn't win anything there, either.

Our homeroom beauty, Marian Perkins, has made us very proud. She was chosen to represent our class in competition for queen of the Harvest Ball. We also harbor the Junior class president, Harley Angle; and treasurer, Berneice Sage.

Miss Haynes has kept stern watch over us this year, doing her best to mold us into quiet and diligent workers. Maybe we haven't always been perfect angels, but we think we have a pretty swell homeroom anyway.

HOME ROOM 303

One would never know to look at or hear it but Homeroom 303 is not very intelligent; in f-f-f--fact—duh—it is made up of a m-m-m-mass of imbeciles. Of course the homeroom is not quite that bad. There are a few things that can be credited to it. For instance, they were bright enough to elect officers at the beginning of the year. For president, they chose Eleanor Poppens; vice president, Bob Rideout; secretary, Jean Anderson; treasurer, Dick Heaton.

When it came time for the homecoming parade, the boys and girls in the homeroom worked quite diligently, but to no avail. The float didn't get a prize. That includes the booby prize. But they were not downhearted. Don't misunderstand! They were ready and willing to work on any other project that came up, that is, any other project except the magazine sales.

Mr. Grace, the homeroom teacher is very decent about letting the boys and girls whisper among themselves. One wonders sometimes if perhaps one's ears are too good because it seems much louder than a whisper should be.

Now, don't get the impression that our homeroom isn't wonderful. We love it dearly and just hate to leave and move on to be seniors!!!!

If you find difficulty remaining awake for another enlightening day at P. T. H. S., simply make your way to Homeroom 117 and be inspired for the day with rustic farm pictures of—cows! Or better yet, girls, just take a gander at Mr. Gossett! Eithey way, (I prefer the latter) you won't go back to sleep.

Joanne Haley was elected president. She made a good one, too! Roy McKune, the boy with the handsome handwriting, was elected secretary. Dick Morel was chosen treasurer—no doubt because of his innocent face. I'm afraid our float turned out to be a mere smudge on the history of 117—take that literally. We vainly tried to burn up the maple leaves (Geneseo) with a bee smoker.

We're quite proud of Dick Morel and his prowess on the varsity basketball squad. Bill Dyke and Eldon Peterson didn't do so badly on the Fresh-Soph team, either. Obviously with this loss of manpower we couldn't be expected to do very well in the intramural basketball tournament.

And now we bequeath to the lucky students who will have this homeroom next year its lovely, inspiring cows.

HOME ROOM 202

Room 202 is the "Home, Sweet Home" of twenty-four ambitious sophomores and, of course, Miss Ashdown. After earnest consideration we elected our officers—Geraldine Kelly, mistress of the house; Norma Hay, second in command; Betty Lea Mossman, the recorder of the calendar; and Ted Sterrett, the financial administrator (a male for once!)

Although we didn't have much luck in the homecoming parade, you can't say we didn't try. We thought Lowell Gustafson's limousine pulled our sacks of leaves very well, even if it did wear a hole in the sacks.

Alan Rumley became our pride and joy during the magazine sales. You see, he won second prize. We're also proud of Roberta Steele, that Scotch lassie who was the sophomore candidate for Harvest Queen. Such grace! Such beauty! There just wasn't enough corn. Bill Siders and Butch Graham, very important (?) members of our homeroom have won distinction in the sophomore class. Bill is the class president and Butch is one of those enthusiasts who leads our class in its hair-raising yell, Betty Lee Mossman, too, has won honors. She was chosen as one of the school's cheer leaders.

We think that "be it ever so humble, there's no place like home"—room 202.

HOME ROOM 307

Here we are slowly strolling into our own brilliant Mr. McKinty's homeroom, 307. Ah! just look, there stands our own reliable, stable-minded (?) president, Jay Mercer, consulting about class affairs with vice president, Shirley Christiansen. Ruthie Freeburg is busily scribbling the announcements of the week as all good secretaries do; and we musn't forget Russell (Miser) Richards, the most trustworthy treasurer any class of P. T. H.S. has ever had.

We have all been inspired each morning by the scientific formulas and problems that greet us as we gaze, stunned, at the blackboard. How the senior chemistry students solve these has us baffled—but just think in two more years we ouselves will be able to fathom these mysterious chalk marks.

Our committees worked hard on our float this year for homecoming even though we didn't exactly get first—or second—or third—or—oh, well, this could go on indefinitely. We have all been good patriots and bought war stamps, too. Although we received little mention in school affairs, we have been very happy in our wonderful homeroom.

HOME ROOM 111

Now we enter one of the rooms of the energetic but green freshmen. Let us see how we have used all our energy.

At the beginning of the school year, we elected our officers. For president we have our faithful Charles Hewitt, and his runner-up was Don Christiansen. For secretary we have Barbara Allen and for treasurer Joyce (can we possibly trust her?) Malm.

The next activity which we took part in was the homecoming parade. This consisted of floats from all the homerooms and the various clubs. Of the many floats entered, ours won the blue ribbon. First place was pretty good for freshman, don't you think?

Also with the active backing of Miss Malsbury we seem to hold the record of faithfully and consistently buying Victory Bonds and Stamps every Wednesday morning.

We feel that we have a real homeroom (contrary to the opinions of some other such organizations) and that we are not quite as green as when we started.

Twenty-two sturdy young men and women file into a room filled with unusual desks and glance uneasily at the strange-looking marks which decorate the walls — shorthand! However do the juniors and seniors master such scratchings. Awed by the unknown and eager to meet the challenge of the honor roll, they sit quietly (?), well, anyway, busily at their various tasks and another typical morning has begun.

The studious—hmmmm—group is ably led by president John Helper, whose assistant, Bill Campbell, stands by in readiness in case of an assassination. The notes on special meetings while the treasurer, the inevitable feminine money-taker, Joyce Halberg, gleefully counts the various dues as they clink merrily into the never overloaded penny bank.

In the background the sponsor, Mr. Walters, looks on benevolently, vastly proud (we hope) of the splendid group that is Homeroom 115.

HOME ROOM 104

We started our freshman year off right by electing some good, honest, hardworking homeroom officers. Louis Lang was president; Barbara Sterrett, vice president; Richard Delano, secretary. There was no treasurer, for there was nothing to treasure!

Our first victory was the magazine campaign in which we won first. The freshman class candidate for Harvest Queen, Joanne Pease, was chosen from our homeroom, partly through our vigorous efforts. We were doubly proud when she was crowned Queen. Our float, which had Geneseo in the dog-house, did not win, but it was good. The judges just didn't appreciate our efforts.

We consider ourselves very lucky to have Mr. Howard as our homeroom adviser. He has been a good teacher as well as a friend, and lightens the dull hours of homeroom period with his lively discussions of sports and his jokes.

HOME ROOM 305

On the first day of school, twenty-four green and timid freshman filled the never-to-be forgotten room. We were immediately cheered when we saw Miss Woller's smiling face and flopped into our chairs, exhausted. After all, who wouldn't be tired after climbing all those dreadful stairs. Just imagine how tired we are now after almost a whole year of climbing those same stairs.

"Ross for President", was the cry so Carol was elected. Bob Siders was made vice president. Jeanne Pease was chosen for the office of secretary and the task of writing the announcements on the board. The trustworthy (?) Doris Johnson was made treasurer and safeguarder of the homeroom's large money supply.

Our first big surprise was winning second place in the homecoming parade. This really stunned us, not that we didn't deserve it!!

We did real well on our War Stamps and Bonds, and have been good, little boys and girls all year!

WHO'S PICK'N UP?

Our hats are off to those young "cubs who so faithfully reported every school happening in the Weekly Tiger. Not one morsel of school news escaped their eager eyes and noses. If something happened during the school year, a record of that happening will be found in the Weekly Tiger scrapbook. When someone had a date, talked about a date or even thought about a date those reporters had 'em, nearly every time, and of course, they always mentioned any short trips toward the rising sun unless the travelers donated fee for—uh—the "cause".

Last year the staff was different for each semester, but the editors were the same. This year, the editors were given a rest, too. Co-editors for the first half were Patsy Salmon and Joan Piper. The eager beavers who brought in the latest dirt were Joanne Conley, Betsy Seibel, Marilyn Anderson, Berneice Sage, Eleanor Poppens, and Mary Brolley. Berneice Sage also kept the scrapbook.

The second semester staff carried on the tradition with Eunice Eckhoff as editor and Bette Lou Meyer, Judy Elliott, Ruby Kelly, Joan Warnecke, and Barbara Becker trying their luck at reporting. Helen Giltner kept the scrapbook and all typing was dne by Betty Foster.

The staff had trouble keeping trck of who was advisor. First it was Miss Stabenow, but as she had enough to do with the Tiger Rag on her hands, the job was handed over to Mrs. Combs, who left in the middle of the year. Mr. Swanberg took over for several months, at the end of which time the job was again given to Mrs. Combs who remained the advisor for the rest of the year.

RAG WRITERS

In spite of great trial and some error, the members of the Tiger Rag staff managed to produce several issues of this new paper. They were handicapped, to begin with, with a debt to the printers of some dollars; but by dint of great effort on the part of Miss Stabenow and her finance committee, headed by Dick Kirkpatrick and composed of Frances Piacenti, Barbara Matson, and Donald Anderson, the debt was done away with.

The editors, Marion Perkins and Norma Mead, did not have any serious difficulty in getting the copy to the printers, other than that major problem of having the reporters get their articles in on time! Those reporters were Norma Van Cleave, Marge Hade, Harley Angle, Bob Rideout, and Dick Wiltz.

The editions gotten out were well written, had plenty of jokes and that necessity (as far as the student body is concerned), dirt! In writing the "Rag" thus, they were following in the footsteps of those who, in the preceding year, put out the first monthly "Rag". The ideal of those pioneers was to present the facts without the curb of the townspeople's opinions or The Republican's space.

US

"The school gets the benefit,
The student gets the fame,
The printer gets the money,
But the staff gets the blame."

How true! how true! Listen: the 1946 Tiger has a tale to tell. This fall, bright and early, the staff met with Miss Woller. For more than half an hour they argued over different themes—and finally came forth with the logical one, the anniversary of the fiftieth year since the first "Princetonian" in 1896. But that was just the beginning. The art staff went immediately to work, designing the cover and insert sheets. The senior editors worked madly . . . as did all the other editors . . . getting pictures taken and articles written. The deadline crept closer and closer. The "dummy" was finished at last, with all the snapshots carefully cut and pasted and all the typing done. Then followed anxious weeks of worry. Would there be enough money? Would the cover be as unusual and good as it promised to be? Would it be finished before the end of school?

The Tiger Staff worked to have an annual to be proud of, and, believe me, they are proud of it.

F. H. A.

"From the northern part of Illinois, to the southern part you'll see . . . " These strains of the state F. H. A. song floated over the campus. The occasion was in FFA-FHA hay ride, and everyone was singing and jumping up and down to keep warm. The girls weer trying out their new song.

The former Home Economics members got a whole new organization this year, as well as a new theme song. When Shirley Dawson and Virginia Myer attended State Homemakers' camp last summer, they got a preview of the New FHA. The Home Economics club was changed to the Future Homemakers of America, because the members were confused with those belonging to college groups. FHA is strictly for high school students. The purpose of the two organizations is the same: To make better homemakers and to promote the joys of homemaking. The official motto is "Toward New Horizons"; the colors, red and white. There is also a new octagonal shaped pin, which has the motto around it; and in the center, two hands holding up a house, which symbolizes the fact that the homes of the future are in the hands of America's youth. The Princeton chapter of FHA is affiliated, and in good standing with, the state and national organization.

The social life of the FHA was, of course, not neglected. Joint parties weer held with the FFA. The older girls gave a get-acquainted weiner roast for the new members, after which they attended a football game. As usual, the mothers were invited to a spring Mother and Daughter covered dish supper, at which some of the members spoke on FHA.

One of the features of the FHA is that chapter mothers are elected to help guide the group during the year. The Princeton FHA was very fortunate in having Mrs. Fred Warnecke as their chapter mother.

All FHA chapters through the state are divided into sections; Princeton belong to Section 11, which consists of chapters in Bureau, Marshall, Putnam, and Stark counties, making a total of 23. The House of Delegates, which is the teacher and one representative from each chapter, met at Princeton in the fall. Section officers were elected for the students, and Virginia Myer was chosen as president of the section. She presided at this and other section meetings, including a rally.

PLOW BOYS

"Learning to do, Doing to learn, Earning to live, Living to serve," is the FFA boy's motto. The officers were Gene Elliott, president; Donald Simon, vice president; Glenn Fredrickson, secretary; Virgil Johnson, treasurer; Max Bader, reporter; and Fred Knapp, sentinel. High lighting this successful year of activity, the Princeton Chapter of FFA was host to the Sectional FFA Leadership School. Approximately 150 boys from 20 different schools attended this all day meeting. The Princeton Chapter was elected to print the sectional paper.

Formal initiations were given eight greenhands who were raised to the degree of Future Farmers, and fourteen freshmen to the Greenhand degree which was followed by an informal initiation.

The FFA float, thanks to Dick Phillips initiative in high gear when getting the calf, finished in fourth place in the Homecoming Parade. In October the members were guests on a hay ride given them by the FHA.

Three hundred people attended the Harvest Ball at which Joanne Pease was crowned Queen of the Harvest. They had a cake raffle and plenty of cider and doughnuts for refreshments. Billy Waite's orchestra furnished the dance music.

Mr. Gossett, the organization's advisor, and twenty-three boys chartered the Dover bus for a trip to the Chicago Fat Stock Show.

The pest contest ended with Bill Sider's team the winner. Fred Knapp was the captain of the losers. Dean Rabe was the first prize winner on points and Delmar Samuelson was second high. The losers treated the winners to a party.

The FFA boys voted to buy a mold for making cement hog troughs. The mold cost $60 which they earned by selling each trough for $1.00.

At the County Basketball tournament the FFA co-operated with the FHA and sold almost 200 dozen hot dogs to the spectators.

The sale of garden seeds, the annual Father and Son covered dish supper, a party for the FHA girls, basketball games with other chapters, and the Sectional Judging contest will conclude this year's program.

ATHLETIC ANGELS

Whoops of triumph and screams of defeat escape from the gym. The G. A. A. girls are at it again! A basketball tournament this time. But that is but one of the many sports in which this ambitious group participates.

These girl athletes played baseball, tennis and soccer until the snow fell. Then the weather forced them inside, where they took up bowling and basketball.

Any girl who has earned a hundred points in a particular sport may join the club. Numerals and letters may be earned also.

The club was advised this year by Miss Haynes. The president was Lois Campbell; vice president and point keeper, Harriet Anderson; secretary and treasurer, Marge Hade. Margaret Slutz was basketball manager; Joyce Schultz, baseball manager; Joan Postlewaite, tennis manager; Shirley Dawson, hiking and bowling manager; Virginia Svedstrom, stunts manager and Marion Perkins, scrapbook.

The winners of the bowling tournament were Jean Anderson, first place; Roberta Steele, second place; Joan Postlewaite and Shirley Dawson, third place.

Some of the girls attended Play Day at LaSalle-Peru. The girls played baseball, soccer, table tennis and volleyball. In the afternoon they went swimming in the indoor pool.

By participation in these activities the girls have tried to live up to their motto.

I promise to uphold the ideals of the Girls' Athletic Association;
By promoting interest in athletics and the outdoors;
By living so that I may be healthy and strong;
By making good sportsmanship a constant factor in my conduct.

BATTLING BROTHERHOOD

All boys earning varsity letters in a major sport become members of the Tiger Varsity Club, providing they have kept their scholastic standing above the school average for three consecutive semesters. Coach William Howard is the faculty sponsor.

The Varsity Club encourages fellowship and sportsmanship among the athletes of the school. One service of the club is sending a letter describing the athletic activities of the school to former members of the club who are in service.

At the first meeting of the old members, Verne Shaffer, a charter member of the club, was elected president; Donald Simon was chosen vice president; Donald Traynor, secretary; and Bob Rideout, treasurer. This preliminary business completed, the group began to consider the initiation of the eleven new members:

Congratulations to Donald Anderson, the only freshman to earn a varsity award this year.

BRAINS...

The member of the National Honor Society are chosen by the faculty and the student body cooperatively on the basis of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. The fact that only fifteen per cent of the graduating class and five per cent of the junior class are chosen, and that each member must be in the upper third of his class in scholarship, makes membership in this orgnization the greatest honor that can come to a high school student. Excellence in every phase of school life is required for entrance.

The society strives to create enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate a desire to render service, promote worthy leadership, and to encourage development of character. Selling refreshments, assiting teachers, and helping failing students are among its many activities.

The traditional initiation program was given at the end of the first semester; last year's members explained the significance of the emblem and the ideals of the society, and the newly elected members were given their pins by two charter members of the organization.

The officers for the year were as follows: Jerry Seidel, president; Gene Elliott, vice president; Barbara Findley, secretary; and Charles Hays, treasurer.

Middle Row—Shirley Fordham, Helen Giltner, Virginia Swan, Loretta Linn, Eleanor Poppens, Virginia Myers.

BRAINS PLUS MUSCLE

The National Athletic Scholarship Society is composed of boys who have won a varsity letter and have kept their scholastic standing equal to or above the average of the school for three consecutive semesters, thus eliminating any freshmen candidates. It is evident that one must be outstanding in both athletics and studies to become a member.

These qualifications tend to bring about a high scholastic standing among boy athletes, a more balanced training, and higher ideals of sportsmanship and citizenship. Members of this society are proof that one doesn't have to be "big and dumb to be an athlete" . . . but it helps!

Coach Howard and President Verne Shaffer admitted the new members into the organization during the initiation ceremonies this spring. They were as follows: Bill Butterfield, Bob Corneille, Glen Fredrickson, Lloyd Helper, Virgil Johnson, Gilbert Samuelson, David Sizemore, Harley Angle, Don Simon, Stuart Graham, Jay Mercer.

STINKERS

The aim of the Science Club "Beaker Breakers", is to further scientific interests in our school.

According to the Constitution that was drawn up last year each member must have a year of science with the average grade of 80. They must also write a short essay on why they want to join.

At the first meeting the officers were chosen. They were:

President .....HILDING ALLEN
Vice President .....CHARLES BERGLAND
Secretary .....SHIRLEY FORDHAM
Treasurer .....MAX BADER

These with helpful leadership of Mr. McKinty carried on the basic work of the club. Soon after the elections Charles Bergland left for the navy, it was then decided to have him remain as absentee vice president.

An initiation committee was appointed and an initiation party was planned to create a better feeling between old and new members.

With shock wires egg shells, wet sawdust plus blind folds and bare feet, the party went of with a "bang". Not that of an atomic bomb either.

At another meeting Jerry Seidel's cousin, Cecil Nelson who worked in an atomic bomb laboratory, gave an interesting account of his job working on the bomb. Mr. McKinty explained the use of a slide rule and many interesting movies were shown for entertainment during the meetings throughout the year. Much has been learned and the aim has reached its fulfillment.

LEDGER LEECHES

This year the Commercial Club joined the ranks of our long list of activities. It is a new type of organization for Princeton High School.

The club was organized and headed by Mr. Henderson and Mr. Walters. Glenn Fredrickson served as president; Gene Elliott was elected vice president; and Arvilla Pierson was elected secretary and treasure.

A student was admitted to the club, if he was taking any commercial subject and that made quite a good size club.

The club met once a month and at each meeting an interesting program was prepared and presented to the members. One of the most interesting features of the meetings was the refreshments served after each program. At least they seemed to draw the crowds.

Early in the year, at the second meeting, a film was shown on the growing commercial importance of South America. At another meeting a one-act comedy was presented by the club called "Easy Money", which tied in with the theme of the Commercial Club.

In February the club was honored with a visit from Mr. Gresson of the American Institute of Conference. He spoke on "Your One Big Conference."

In March the club was taken over by Mr. Brumm, the new bookkeeping teacher.

ENRAPTURED ROMANS

If you noticed any already be-fuddled Freshman wandering about the halls the first week of school muttering in a gutteral under tone, "Amo amas, amat," do not think them to be in a psycleopothic condition, they were merely Miss Graham's dazed Latin students.

Organized to put a social slant on every-day class room activities, the Latin Club provides an opportunity to study the lines of those whose literature we read. It is one of the first clubs a Latin student enters, and the meetings are held by the Caesar class on alternate Fridays. These hopefuls subscribe to a Latin newspaper which contains Latin crossword puzzles and other fiendish devices perplexing to the amateur. Together with the regular meetings, an initiation meeting and a final picnic are held each year. This year the initiation took place on March 14th in the Little Theatre. In a solemn, secret ceremony these officers were brought into the spotlight:

Consules.....JAY MERCER, MAX DEAN
Aediles.....RUBY KELLY, FRANK GORDON
JOAN POSTLEWAITE
Scribt.....BETTY LEA MOSSMAN
Quaestor.....JAY GROSS

Both the old and new members attended, and refreshments were served, restoring strength lost during the ceremonies.

In 1945 our Latin Club became a member of the Junior Classical League, a national organization. This League permits an annual award to be given, in code member school, to the student who for two years has maintained the highest scholastic standing in Latin.

ENTHRALLED SPANIARDS

"Los Pacos Muertos," the Dead Ducks . . . thanks to the suggestion by Bob Rideout, the Spanish Club has its new name. As has been customary in the past, the club changes its name each year. Last year they were "Los Sonordes" or The Dreamers.

At the last meeting of the Dreamers the officers for "Los Pacos Muertos" were chosen. The official quacks are:

Presidente .....ANNE ROSENQUIST
Vice Presidente .....SUSAN COMBS
Secretario .....MARION PERKINS
Teseroro .....ANN MARTIN

At the beginning each new member was required to learn the theme song "Noches Espanoles" and an explanation was given of what the club does throughout the year.

An initiation party was planned and during the day the new members were to dress in the clothes of the opposite sex . . . Stanley Johnson and Arnold Ross certainly make good "sweater girls". A party was held that evening with Halloween as the theme. Everyone came in costume and after the unmasking games were played and refreshments were served. The decoration consisted of corn stalks and jack-o-lanterns provided the only lighting system emphasizing the "haunted house" effect.

Under the leadership of Miss Stabenow as "jife" the club met on the second Tuesday of each month and all conversation was carried on in Spanish. Popular songs were translated into Spanish and sung by the group. Reading Spanish books and articles during the meetings added to the interesting and educational benefits to each of the members, for this is why the club was originally begun.

STAMM'S STRUTTERS

Something new has been added. Indeed, a number of new things have been added to the band this year in addition to about twenty freshmen. There were some new kinds of instruments—the names of which are simply impossible to spell, and there was a new organization, the Band Parents Association. The patient members of this organization met regularly to check up on the progress of the band, and to offer assistance—money of course!

The most important innovation of all was the end of gas rationing. This wonderful event brought about the mobilization of the band, and in October, early in the morning, one could have seen two buses pulling out of Princeton stuffed with uniformed students with instruments, hanging out of the windows and a big bass drum roped on top. They were going to play for the Macomb State Teachers College's Homecoming Parade. By the way, Macomb is Mr. Stamm's and Mr. McKinty's "Alma Mater,"—and were they glad to see her—the college of course.

The next major event was the Music Festival at Dixon. A number of students were selected to represent our band. They were as follows: Pat Landers, Phyllis Wahl, Eunice Eckhoff, Joyce Ann Peterson, Harley Angle, Dave Jardine, Roger Fahlberg, and Helen Giltner. The Chorus went too, so naturally everyone had a wonderful time, inspite of a few minor casualities (flat tires, for instance) on the way back to Princeton.

For several weeks in February it was impossible to walk through the corridors without hearing wierd sounds all over the building. The clarinet quartette: Ann Joyce Rosenquist, Joyce Ann Peterson, Virginia Svedstrom, Phyllis Wahl, and Dave Jardine, Lou Lita Sapp, Helen Giltner, Violetta Charles; the cornet quaret: Harriet Anderson, Harley Angle, Mary Cassidy, and Leslie Conkling; soloists: Leonard Paulson and Eunice Eckhoff, all were practicing for the district contest. Beverly Simon twirled so well she won a first place. Leonard was given a first, too. Eunice was in the second division—and all the ensembles were put in third division!

A month later, Brahm's Hungarian Dances echoed through the halls during sixth period in preparation for the district band contest.

At nearly every public event this year, the band could be seen blowing their brains out for the glory of dear old Princeton High. Football games, basketball games, Armistice Day, Barbershop Quartet program and many other varied programs.

The crowning event of the year was "The Music of Youth," the annual band concert. There were more special numbers in the concert than last year, and plenty of stirring marches. Harley Angle played a cornet solo, Patsy Lou Salmon squeezed a lot of music out of her accordian, and Eunice Eckhoff got some lovely, mellow notes from her trombone. Everyone loves to hear Ann Joyce Rosenquist sing and her solo that night was no exception. There were two quartets, too. Barbara Becker, Barbara Findley, Pat Landers, and Eleanor Poppens were the flute quartet. And Violetta Charles, Helen Giltner, Dave Jardine, and Lou Lita Sapp played clarinets.

Everyone was surprised to see a tiny five-year-old girl strut on the stage, twirling a little baton like a veteran. She was the National Champion twirler—a wonderful achievement.

The Band put a lot of work into their concert and the results, certainly showed it. Mr. Stamm will certainly agree with that! For if anyone ever worked hard, he did.

CROONERS

Under the direction of Miss Donnabelle Fry, the twenty-four members of boys' chorus presented a minstrel show that proved to be one of the hit programs of the year. The boys, in flashy suits, sooty faces, and white gloves, burst out of the mouth of a huge, grinning black face in the center of the stage. Interlocutor, Verne Shaffer, was seated in the front center with end men, Max Bader, Charlie Hays, Bob Rideout, and Bill Palmer on either side of him. These five kept the jokes coming fast and furious, much to the delight of the chorus, who laughed almost as much as the audience. Bob Rideout as "Rastus" sang "Old Man River"; Bill Palmer as "Bones", "Darktown Strutters Ball"; Max Bader as "Mose", "If I Was What I Ain't Instead of What I Is", and Charlie Hays as "Tambo" gave a recitation on "The Laziest Man in Town." Don Nix appeared as a "Red Hot Minstrel Man". Verne Shaffer, Bill Palmer, Stan Rumley, and Charlie Hays harmonized in a quartet. A monologue "Saxaphone Sam" and "Saint Louis Blues," a saxaphone solo, were enacted and played by Leonard Paulson. A quartet, with Roger Fahlberg, Jack DeBord, Jerry Shaffer, and John Helper played some all-trombone numbers. Special credit is due Don Nix for his work on planning the stage.

The boys appeared at the Woman's Club Reception, their opening meeting in the fall. They sang "Stout Hearted Men" and "The Winter Song".

The entire chorus took part in the Bureau County Festival; while the following were chosen by Miss Fry to represent their group at the North Central Conference Music Festival: Hilding Allen, Max Bader, Bob Corneille, Pete Doyle, Gene Elliott, Charley Hays, Bill Palmer, Leonard Paulson, Bob Rideout, Stan Rumley, Gilbert Samuelson, Jerry Seidel, and Donald Simon.

Dressed as riffs, they sang two numbers at the girls Chorus Spring Concert. As usual, they sang at the Baccalaureate and Commencement programs.

Boys' Chorus entered contest work; singing "Hail, Bright Abode."

Loretta Linn did a splendid job of accompanying the chorus during the whole year.

CANARIES

The big moment for the members of Girls' Chorus came on March 22, when they presented their annual Spring Concert, a "Magic Smoke Fantasy." The program was based on selections by Victor Herbert, George Gershwin, and Rudolph Friml. The curtain rose presenting a mist of smoke, while colored lights were played on glittering rings. Highlights of the evening were vocal solos by Ann Joyce Rosenquist and Eleanor Poppens; the duo-piano numbers by Barbara Findley and Loretta Linn, and a harp number by Eleanor Poppens. Virginia Myer, Joanne Conley, Winifred Wilson, Lou Lita Sapp, Fay Tremper, Barbara Findley made up a Gay Nineties Sextette; while Suzanne Combs, Virginia Svedstrom and Shirley Fordham appeared as a Dutch Trio. The boys' chorus also sang two numbers.

Twenty-two new girls were admitted by Miss Fry into chorus making a total of forty-nine. Virginia Myer was elected president. Formerly, this had been the only office in this organization, but this year two new officers were chosen: Eleanor Poppens as corresponding secretary, and Winifred Wilson as financial secretary. These girls filled their offices quite successfully.

Princeton participated in the North Central Conference Music Festival this year. Miss Fry chose the following girl to represent the girl's chorus: Ann Avery, Barbara Findley, Ann Joyce Rosenquist, Gladys Sledgister, Shirley Dawson, Suzanne Combs, Joan Warnecke, Winifred Wilson, Marilyn Anderson, Mary Kay Armstrong, Joanne Conley, Shirley Fordham, Norma Hay, Virginia Myer, Joan Postlewaite, Patsy Salmon, Virginia Svedstrom, and Nora Van Cleave. The whole group took part in the Bureau County Music Festival, which was held at Princeton. As usual, they also sang at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

The chorus entered contest work for the first time since competition was canceled because of the war. They sang two numbers, "Tally-Ho", and "Valley of Dreams."

On November 23, the girls went social and staged a party. Needless to say, many of the guests were members of boys' chorus. They all enjoyed refreshments, games, and dancing.

Loretta Linn, who has been the accompanists for the chorus since her sophomore year and partial accompanist in her freshman year, will graduate this year. She has been untiring in her efforts, attending early rehearsals, late rehearsals and special rehearsals with soloists. She leaves behind her a hard job that she did well, we know her absence will be felt.

The annual breakfast was held before commencement; when all of the girls gathered together for a farewell for the senior members of chorus.

STAGE DOOR

The Seniors chose STAGE DOOR, a successful Broadway production written by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, as their class play. The play was given December 5, and had everything from comedy, when lankey-shanked Keith Burgess tripped in the door in a tuxedo and high silk hat, to tragedy when little Kaye Hamilton committed suicide.

The setting is the Footlights Club, where a number of young actresses live while trying to get a start in the stage. Terry Randall, the best actress of the bunch is offered a motion picture contract, but turns it down and sticks to the stage even though she is out of a job most of the time. Her roommate, Jean Maitland, accepts a movie job and goes to Hollywood. Keith Burgess, a struggling young playwrite with revolutionary ideas about society and almost everything else, becomes interested in Terry, and the two write a play, with the understanding that Terry will play the lead when it is produced. When Keith is unable to sell the play unless another actress is allowed to have the main part, Terry backs out and tells Keith to go ahead. The play is a success, and in spite of his former antagonism towards the movies Keith signs a contract to go to Hollywood.

A year later, Keith is a huge success, Jean is a screen star, and Terry is still working at Macy's. Jean returns to New York to star in a play produced by the Adolph Gretzl, but she is not half good enough to play the part. David Kingsley, a movie magnate who is inclined to favor the stage, suggests that Terry play the part. When Gretzl refuses, David buys the play and produces it himself, with Terry the leading lady.

"JANIE"

On April 26, 1946, the class of 1947 presented its junior play, "Janie".

Janie Colburn is a typical teen-age girl and the play tells of the trouble she can get into, all accidentally, of course. It all begins with the arrival of Thelma Lawrence, a widow and an old friend of Janie's mother.

On his first week-end pass, her son Dick, who is stationed at a near-by army camp, comes to visit and Janie and he are mutually attracted. Thus begins a series of dates. Janie's high school boy friend, Scooper Nolan, is extremely alarmed, when he hears of all this and becomes more so when Janie seems to prefer Dick Lawrence to him.

Elsbeth Colburn is Janie's bratty, younger sister. She is always in the way, seeking money, causing trouble and doing the numerous other mischievous things that younger sisters always do.

Events go on in this manner with Scooper and Dick nearly coming to blows over Janie, and Janie's father becoming more and more disgusted with the younger generation.

The climax comes when Janie and her girl friends give a party one evening while her parents are away. Dick and his friends from the army camp arrive and then things start to happen. To get rid of Elsbeth for the evening, Dick is persuaded to take her to her grandma's. During the party, Scooper arrives and announces he is running away to join the Army Air Force, which considerably impresses Janie. The house is a complete wreck and the party is in full swing when the Colburns arrive home. At this point Dick returns after being gone all evening, and admits he lost Elsbeth. Although it seems impossible, the play does have a happying ending. Elsbeth returns home with a man she met on the bus and whom she calls "Uncle Poogie." He turns out to be a man with whom Mr. Colburn has been trying to put over a business deal. Mrs. Lawrence marries the town bachelor. Scooper returns, too young to get in to the Air Force, and Janie and he are re-united.

Did you go to that movie Wednesday night?? Did you listen to Bob Hope when you should have been doing your chemistry? If so, that is probably why you're not in this picture. Only students who had four A's on their first semester report cards are eligible for the A Club.

If you're in the upper scholarship brackets, but still not quite enough for A Club, you're probably in A-B Club. Students eligible are those who had either 3 A's and 1 B or 2 A's and 2 B's on their first semester report card.

We've Got a Team . . . and Nobody's Prouder

Again this year, our untiring Miss Woller has ably directed the various activities of the Pep Club. At the organization meeting, Bill Palmer was elected president, Ann Avery, vice president; and Loretta Linn, secretary-treasurer. Feeling the need of reinforcements, the club was enlarged to include more of the student body. Believing in the old adage "by their works ye shall know them" the new members were chosen as a result of their efforts on various committees early in the season.

After being postponed twice because of the weather, the thuse was finally held on October 18, the night before the Homecoming game. A huge crackling bonfire and a roaring, cheering, crowd made the night one to be remembered.

With the war over at last, the Pep Club was again allowed to sponsor a motor-drawn Homecoming Parade. Although we lost our Homecoming game, the student body and guests had a most enjoyable time at the party held in the improvised Tigers' Den on the second floor. The decorations were especially unique and much credit is to be given the clever committee for their hard work.

To celebrate the war's end, all alumni in the immediate vicinity of Princeton Township High School back to 1930 were sent special invitations to attend the game and the dance afterward. Alums were asked to register at the entrance to the field and a total of 154 registered.

MERCURY'S CHILDREN

"Hurry up with those attendance slips."
"Answer that phone."
"Don't run that mimeograph so fast."
"Go ask so-and-so where he's been all day."
"Don't be late to your next class."

These are just a few of the thousands of orders given to the average office messenger every day.

All joking aside, however, the office messengers are a corps of boys and girls who have been doing their jobs faithfully for years with little or no recognition.

The students who are chosen for this job must be top-notchers. They must be above average scholastically, they must be willing to work hard, and above all they must be very dependable.

Their duties are almost innumerable. A few of them are:

1. Collect attendance slips. (You know what they are—those little blue and white pieces of paper that the teachers mark up unintelligibly and often so wrongly that a messenger must check on it a couple of times—no offense, faculty.)

2. Answer telephone intelligently.

3. Take out those mountainous stacks of little blue slips.

4. Deliver bags of mail.

5. Check on attendance.

6. General office work, and its amazing what that includes.

7. Take out cut slips and "Saturday Morning Tea" invitations.

Their motto, it is rumored, is, "If you want speedy service, don't call Western Union, call the O. M. (office messengers) !"

There is another necessary but unlauded group in our midst. Seven girls daily give up their time to stay in the Red Cross room. Although not everyone is indebted to them, those who have cut themselves or had a toothache—or any kind of ache—really appreciate what their duty means to us. They are as follows: Verda Rabe, Judelle Elliott, Marjorie Hade, Bette Lenihan, Ruby Kelly, Joy Rose, and Betsy Seibel.

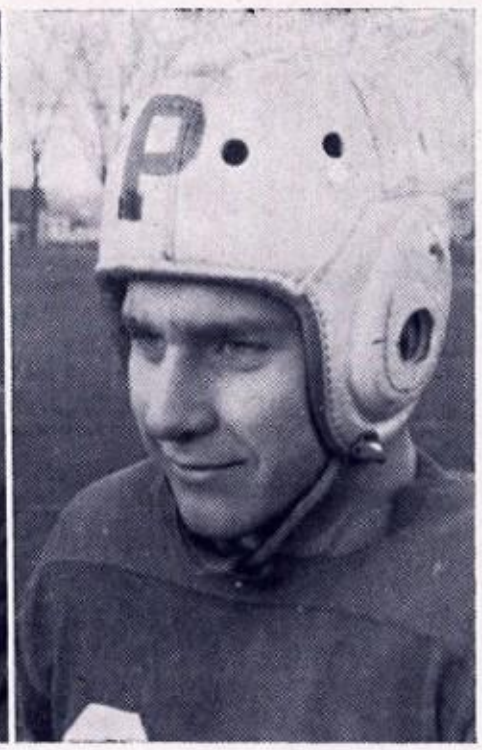
VARSITY FOOTBALL

On August 24, the Princeton Tigers reported to Coaches Howard and McKinty and began working out in preparation for the 1945 football season.

The season opened on September 14, when Princeton met the large Walnut team and bowed to them 6-0. It was a tough defensive battle all the way with Walnut scoring the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter with a pass from Stiver to Alshouse.

EGGERS



SHAFFER

The following Friday the Princeton eleven journeyed to Spring Valley where they encountered the always strong Hall team. The first quarter kept both teams on the defensive. Neither team could manage to push over the goal line, but in the second quarter the Tigers came through for a touchdown on a pass ball. Hall scored in the third quarter tying up the game and neither team succeeded in scoring again.

Because of the excessive amount of rain the next scheduled game with Mendota was postponed.

traveled to Rock Falls whose team proved to be an easy foe, but the Tigers suffered many casualties including Egger's knee injury which put him out until the last game of the season. Rideout carried the ball over for two touchdowns, Shaffer for one; and "Happy Joe" Anderson for one. In the fourth quarter, Coach Howard sent in the second team to finish the game. The subs kept the Rock Falls team from scoring although they were threatening when the gun went off.

Dixon was next on our schedule. The Tigers were handicapped because of the casualties from the Rock Falls game but battled until the last gun sounded. Dixon scored in the second and fourth quarters. Princeton pushed down to the one yard line but couldn't get the necessary yardage to make it count.

For the homecoming game, Princeton played Geneseo. Offensively Geneseo gave their fans many thrills, playing their game of the season. Four touchdowns for them to our one put them ahead 25 to 6 at the half. In the second half the Tigers line held and they scored a touchdown also, but lost 39 to 12.

The Morrison team coached by "Bud" Cole was the next foe. Though Princeton played most of the game in Morrison territory, Morrison managed to score in the second quarter and went into a 7-6 lead. The "Mallets" maintained the lead for the remainder of the game with neither side managing to score again.

DeKalb invaded Princeton the following week and humbled the Tigers to a 41-0 defeat. (Mercer was injured in the leg).

The following game was with Princeton's oldest rival—Kewanee. The boys played an excellent game with good interception. Although he was injured, Mercer played a good game. Rideout made some long runs and Shaffer also played a good game. Despite all of this we lost 33-0.

The cancelled game with Mendota was our last game. This was a very close defensive battle all the way with the Tigers managing to push over in the second quarter. Princeton held them the rest of the game, but the Trojans threatened in the fourth quarter with a long run close to the goal. Butterfield tackled the runner. By winning this game Princeton came in for a three-way tie with Hall and Mendota for first place in the second division of the North Central Conference.

The Athletic Banquet was held on Monday, March 25th. Robert Rideout and Dick Wiltz were elected co-captains for the next year.

Shaffer was elected to the All-Conference team as tackle; received honorable mention on Pat Harman's All-Star team, and was mentioned in the Daily News All-State.

Wiltz was given honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Although Princeton's record of wins and losses was decidedly in the loss column, the boys never disgraced their old alma mater by giving up. They fought to the finish every time. It just seemed that "Lady Luck" was against them at every turn. Shaffer, Hays, and Mercer were the only veterans, on the team. The rest of the team was made of sophomores. Mercer was out until the county tournament because of a knee injury that he sustained in football.

In its first encounter of the season Princeton walloped a saucy Wyanet "five" by a score of 42 to 33. Next Manlius invaded Princeton for our first home game and after a good fight went home with their tails between their legs to the tune of a 33 to 25 defeat.

Influenza hit Princeton hard the next weeks, Shaffer, Morel, and Kann were among those stricken and could play very little in the Neponset game. Even though the team fought gallantly they went down in defeat with a score of 38 to 28, never to rise again.

DePue who had one of the best teams in this area whipped our boys in a hard battle 55 to 19. The Tigers, smarting from defeat then tore into a strong Sheffield team but still luck was against them.

The boys were really getting angry now but Mendota and Geneseo still held them down. Walnut then handed the Tigers another defeat while they were still unnerved from the other games. Hall, with one of the better teams in its history, came along and squelched a really scrappy bunch of Tigers.

During the Christmas holidays Princeton entered the Illinois Valley Tournament at LaSalle. Even though the fellows kept up the pace of Marseilles for the first half they lost in the end 58 to 34.

Fighting tooth and nail the ever scrapping Tigers were forced to bow to a highly superior Kewanee team, then Marseilles, Mendota and Wenona all in a row.

The boys were really mad now and with grim determination they sailed wholeheartedly into a good St. Bede team. Gorgal, their star was held scoreless the whole first half. Mercer shined for Princeton by piling up eight field goals. The game was nip and tuck all the way. Even though St. Bede was supposed to have an easy victory they barely eked out a 29 to 25 win.

In the Regional Tournament at Mendota, Princeton drew LaSalle-Peru as their first opponent. L.-P., who were so hot that they probably could have beaten the state champs that night, made their first 12 shots to gain a comfortable lead that they never relinquished. Shaffer, Hays, Hannon, Butterfield, Eggers, Rideout, Mercer, Graham, and Morel all received letters.

As no member of the squad was elected captain, Hays and Shaffer served as honorary captains. One member of the team acted as captain for each game.

Jay Mercer was elected captain for next year.

VARSITY TRACK

Princeton's Varsity track team was built mainly around returning Senior lettermen. There were no Hagges or Cunninghams but we did have some boys that had shown some promise in the 1945 County Track meet and Verne Shaffer who represented Princeton in the State meet at Champaign. The team was well represented in the various track and field events. Johnson, Butterfield, Helper, and Kann were in the middle distance, Shaffer, and Hays at the hurdles, while Eggers and Rideout were our standbys in the shorter dashes.

Rideout with his get out and go could also run a half or quarter mile that would qualify in any high school meet. The boys in the field were Seidel and Samuelson at shot and discus, Hays and Mercer at high jumping, Johnson and Shaffer at broad jumping with Morel helping Shaffer with the pole vaulting. The mile relay team showed plenty of speed with each of the boys turning in a quarter mile of under one minute. With plenty of hard work running and a little practice Coach Howard's team should be able to take the County Track meet.

Princeton's Freshman-Sophomore football squad played five games this year with two wins, two losses, and one tie. With a squad built mainly around his returning Sophomores, Coach McKinty and the boys lost their opener to Hall. The following Friday they came back fighting, but were held to a six to six tie by a heavier Dixon team.

The traditional battle with Geneseo finally yielded our first win as the boys hit their stride. Hall seems to have been their downfall again, but with renewed vigor the boys went after Mendota to taste a well—earned victory and finish the season with a win.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL

Princeton's Freshman - Sophomore basketball team came forth with a lot of fighting spirit and a will to win. Their record was not highly impressive, but the experience gained was well worth the effort. "Mac" started out with a green and mostly inexperienced ball club, but through a lot of hard work he produced some boys that will be a great help on the forthcoming varsity teams. The coach kept the boys on their toes all of the time because any man on the team was replaceable by another man just itching to take his place and do a better job. With Bill Dyke's aggresiveness and big Hugh Peterson's steady improvement throughout the year, the team had the necessary sparkle and drive that pleased everyone who followed them.

We also had a schedule for our freshman team in which we won seven games and lost three. At the close of the season, an invitational freshman tournament was held between Hall, Mendota, Geneseo, and Princeton, in which the Tiger Cubs placed second.

This year's Fresh-Soph track team looks like one of the most promising in some years. With a few lightning fast freshmen, Coach Howard is rounding out a well-balanced team. Being the far-sighted and confident man he is, Coach Howard is looking forward to a bright future. The boys on this squad are a bunch of hard-working, aggressive lads. All ready this year the relay team proved its worth, by making a good showing at the Oak Park relays.

Donald "Happy Joe" Anderson, although a freshman, is running the 100 yard dash in 10.6 (which, if I might add is very good for anyone around here.) Also in the green limelight of freshmen fame are Eddie Walker and Louie Lang, two good boys in any dash event. The relay team consists of "H. J." Anderson, Walker, Lang and Funderberg. In other events Johnny Hays shows promise as a hurdler and pole vaulter; Jerry Shaffer as a hurdler; David Jardine in field events and Don Buhn as a distance man.

After reading this, you probably think we have a number of Supermen. Well, as far as I can see, all they can't do is fly—but they tell me they're practicing.

INTRAMURALS

The boys' intramural activities this year consisted of basketball and wrestling. Each home room had its own team composed of boys within the home room. All were eligible except those that were on either the varsity or fresh-soph teams. One exception to this was the All-staters. This team was composed of juniors selected by Coach Howard. Also, Miss Fry's and Mr. Brumm's rooms combined to form one team as there were not enough boys to form separate teams.

The games were played in the noon hour from 12:15 to 12:45. Students acted as the officials.

Each team played every other team once. There was a three way tie for first—Mr. McKinty's, Mr. Brumm's, and Mrs. Comb's home rooms were the champs. Each team won twelve and lost one. High point man was Bob Corneille who scored ninety points.

After a week of instruction in the different holds of wrestling, the wrestling intramurals started. All boys were required to participate. They were divided into divisions according to weight. The matches were run off in the gym classes with a student acting as the referee. No champion was determined.

For those who wish to participate in athletic events and to build up their bodies, intramurals provide the opportunities to engage in sports.
